Cheyne Global Credit Fund (the "Fund"), a sub-fund of Cheyne Select UCITS Fund plc Class GCDH I1 (€) ISIN: IE00B76XH336

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Fund invests on a leveraged basis in derivatives such as Credit Default Swaps ("CDS") and corporate bonds, all of which provide returns based on corporate debt. The Fund seeks to achieve returns from both interest earned and periodic payments received from its investments, and from the rise and fall in the value of the debt and derivatives thereof of individual corporations and bond prices generally.

- The Fund may hold long and short exposures to corporate debt, and will enter into long and short CDS positions on the credit risk of individual corporations or purchase or sell corporate bonds.
- The Fund will generally be "long" credit risk, i.e. hold positions which benefit when a particular corporation or the debt market in general remains stable, does not experience credit defaults and/or exhibits an improving credit environment. However, the Fund may be "short" in some or all of its portfolio, i.e. hold positions which benefit if the opposite occurs, namely where a particular corporation or the market in general experiences credit defaults and/or exhibits a deteriorating credit environment.
- In selecting long credit exposures, the Investment Manager will apply fundamental credit research to identify attractive under-priced corporate debt. In selecting short exposures, the opposite criteria will be used. The primary goal is to achieve high total rates of return by selecting over or under-priced corporate debt with prudent risks and a moderate level of volatility.
- The Fund will use leverage (i.e. it may gain more exposure to the underlying investment than if it had directly invested) – primarily through the use of CDS. The maximum net leverage of the Fund using the commitment approach will not exceed 300% of the Fund's Net Asset Value ("NAV"). In normal market conditions, net leverage using the commitment approach is expected to range between 100% and 300% of the Fund's NAV.
- The Fund will focus its investments on companies in Europe, the US and other developed markets.
- The Fund does not pay dividends – any earnings in the Fund will be reinvested.
- Investors may buy or redeem their shares daily on demand with one business day's prior notice for purchase and three business days' notice for redemptions.
- Recommendation: investment in the Fund may not be appropriate for investors planning to withdraw their money within 2 (two) to 4 (four) years.
- For full investment objective and policy details as well as subscription and redemption policies, please refer to the Fund supplement.

Risk and Reward Profile

The Fund is categorised as a 3 as it invests on both a long and short basis in credit and credit related instruments.

The categorisation is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The risk category is not guaranteed and may change over time. The lowest category does not mean risk free.

The Fund does not provide any capital protection or return guarantee.

For more details, please refer to the section of the prospectus entitled "Risk Factors".

In pursuing its investment objective, the Fund will be exposed to additional risks including, without limitation:

Duration Hedging Risk: (DH classes) Duration-hedging aims to reduce the impact of a rise in interest rates on the value of the underlying investments held but such efforts may not be successful causing a negative financial impact to the share price. (D classes) Classes that do not hedge duration are more susceptible to lower or negative performance due to possible fall in price of underlying bond investments when interest rates rise.

Leverage can magnify gains and losses, particularly in periods of abnormal and adverse market conditions.

Certain Derivatives may result in gains or losses greater than the original amount invested.

A party with whom the Fund contracts may fail to meet its obligations or become bankrupt which may expose the Fund to a financial loss.

Generally, corporate bonds and corporate CDS in which the Fund invests are highly liquid with high trading volumes. The Fund expects to invest substantially in derivatives, particularly CDS. These are contracts which expose the Fund to the performance of a single underlying corporation. CDS will also expose the Fund to the risk of non-performance of the contract by the counterparty to the CDS, which will generally be a large international bank. The Investment Manager will monitor and limit exposures to and creditworthiness of all CDS counterparties.

The Fund is exposed to the credit risk of issuers of corporate debt.

The Fund attempts to hedge currency exchange risk non-Euro classes. There can be no guarantee hedging will work.
